

IN THE SPOTLIGHT
SINCE 1929

A group of local performing artists had a dream. They loved entertaining and wanted to present quality theatrical productions to the Flint community.

The year was 1929.

What began as “The Theatre Guild” was soon renamed “Flint Community Players”. And their original dream has become a reality...season after season.

This dedicated group of volunteers, led by a paid, professional artistic director, presents five shows, plays and musicals, each season. The performances are staged at The F.A. Bower Theater in The Flint Cultural Center and in our own space on Ballenger Hwy. The organization provides a forum for area artists to expand their theatrical experiences and to showcase their talents.
